BE A MULTIPLE-CHOICE CHAMPION

Reread the question. Understand what the question is asking.

Come up with an answer to the question before looking at the list of choices.

Read ALL of the answers and cross out the choices that don't make sense.

Underline the section in the text or question that supports your reasoning.

Look carefully at similar-sounding answers. Find the more precise answer.

Select "All of the above" if two or three answers seem correct.

Sadlier School